How long will it take for HomeStory to mail me my reward?

HomeStory Real Estate Services is a licensed real estate broker. HomeStory Real Estate Services is not affiliated with HSBC, and HSBC is not responsible for the real estate services and rewards program provided by HomeStory Real Estate Services. Obtaining a mortgage from HSBC is optional and not required to participate in HomeStory Real Estate Services' home rewards program. The borrower may arrange for financing with any lender.

Qualifying for the reward requires utilizing a HomeStory certified real estate agent to complete the real estate buy and/or sell transaction. If you are currently working with a real estate agent, this is not a solicitation. A reward is not available where prohibited by state law, including Alaska, Iowa, Louisiana and Missouri. An agent commission reduction, rebate, and/or credit may be available for sellers in lieu of the reward in Mississippi, Oklahoma, and Oregon and should be discussed with the agent upon enrollment. No reward will be available for buyers in Mississippi, Oklahoma, and Oregon. Rewards in Kansas and Tennessee are required to be delivered by gift card. In Kansas, the reward is set to $1,000 regardless of the sale price of the property. An agent commission reduction may be available for sellers in lieu of the reward in New Jersey and should be discussed with the agent upon enrollment. An agent rebate may be available for buyers in lieu of the reward in New Jersey and should be discussed with the agent upon enrollment.

HomeStory will issue a reward in the form of a check unless otherwise directed by state law and will be sent to the client enrolled in the program within 45 days of closing. Rewards must be mailed to a US address or deposited into a US bank account. Depending on state regulations highlighted above.

HomeStory Rewards is operated by HomeStory Real Estate Services. HomeStory is not affiliated with HSBC and their privacy and security policies may differ from HSBC privacy and security policies.
